Have you ever wondered what the difference is between a fiddle and a violin? The answer is there is absolutely no difference whatsoever. They are exactly the same instrument. They are tuned the same way. But if someone plays “The Devil Went Down to Georgia” on that instrument – it's a fiddle. And if they play Mozart's “Concerto Number 18” on that instrument – it's a violin. It's all in how you play the instrument and what you play on it.

Forgiveness is an instrument that God plays quite differently than we do. We don't know how to play the instrument of forgiveness in the same way. God forgives us out of unconditional love. We have big trouble with that. God forgives and forgets. Even when we are able to forgive, too often it's very hard for us to forget.

I believe forgiveness gives us a new start. And there are times in all of our lives when we all need a new start.

I know a great couple, Susan and John. Susan loved to drive fast. She loved to ride in fast cars. She wanted a fast sports car badly and was always bugging John to buy one. Like a little Corvette or a Porsche.. But John was a truck kind of guy and just couldn't trade his pickup for a souped-up sports car.

A few months before Susan's birthday, John asked her what she wanted. She said, “I want something that goes from 0 to 160 in 8 seconds.” He bought her a bathroom scale. Well, after that, he needed a new start.

Forgiveness is a new start. If we need to be forgiven or if we need to forgive someone, if we are able to do that, it is a new start. We start refreshed. The slate is clean. It's a new beginning, a new dawn, a new day in our lives when we are forgiven and realize it and accept it. And when we can forgive, what a change it'll make. It will allow you to wipe the slate clean.

Are you holding a grudge against somebody? Are you angry with someone and there's a knot in your stomach because of it? Will you forgive them? If you can, then you can get that anger and pain out of your life.

It's hard to forgive someone who has done us wrong. We don't have to forget or excuse the wrongdoing. Don't wait for someone to apologize or ask for your forgiveness. Most people who hurt us and do us wrong never apologize. They never ask us to forgive them. But do them and yourself a favor. Forgive them anyway.

Forgiveness is for you. It finally allows you to let go of being stuck in anger and pain. Forgiveness allows you to finally move forward and turn the negative that has been living inside of you into a positive.

Many of us carry some kind of guilt around with us. Maybe we messed up somewhere in our past and can't get over it. We feel guilty. That guilt has become part of us. That guilt destroys our confidence. That guilt destroys our relationships. Guilt sticks us in the past and keeps us stuck there. There is an important truth about guilt that guilt doesn't want you to know. Here it is: Guilt cannot change the past. Guilt cannot change the past any more than worry can change the future. But we give guilt the power to make us miserable today. You have the power to forgive other people and to forgive yourself. Forgiveness sets you free.

What is it that we need forgiving for? Most of us carry around self-imposed guilt for things we ought to have done. I should have been a better parent. Then maybe my son wouldn't have gotten into so much trouble in high school. I shouldn't have had that fight with my sister, who has stopped talking to me. I should be a better provider so I could send my kids to college. We can forgive ourselves from our perceived failures and shortcomings. And you don't have to bargain with people or bargain with God to be forgiven. You don't have to go out and do a bunch of good things to be forgiven. It's free. We just have to accept it.

And when we can forgive, what a change it'll make. It will allow you to wipe the slate clean.

Becoming part of the ViaViente family has provided tens of thousands of people with a new start. A new financial beginning. An opportunity to grow personally, help others find relief from their health issues, and an opportunity to achieve success beyond anything you've ever thought possible.

A lot of people get caught up in trying to fix other people's lives and problems and ignore the mess that is their own lives. Clean up your own front yard; get your own life in order.

You don't need to be concerned with the neighbor's yard across the street from you, or the neighbor's yard down the next block.

Take care of your own business first, and take care of your family. Once you get your life in order, then you can be a good neighbor and reach out to others.

You can't help others if you don't put your house in order. You can't give financially to others if you don't have it to give. Make the ViaViente opportunity your vehicle to obtaining additional income to take care of your family and then you will have extra money to reach out to others and help others.

How many times have you wanted to help others, but didn't have the finances? While life is lived forward it is judged in reverse. This means forget the past. There is nothing you can do about it. While I was on an airplane, I started up a conversation with the man seated next to me. I asked him what he did for a living. He said he was a Pysclogosits and an author. Oh really, I said. Tell me about your book. He said this was his fourth book and it had just made the New York Times Best Seller list.

In fact he said, he just finished taping a show with Ophra. Next I asked about the book and he said it is about living in the present. He went on to comment that most people are either stuck living in the past or living in the future. My next question was, where should we live? He said, “In the Present”. Know what you want to do, and go do it. Staying Focused on the task at hand. Whether that is being with someone, having conversation with several people, working on a business project or objective. Stay Focused in the Present and You can accomplish what you set out to do.

Then I asked, How do you do that ? He said, For me it is keeping a rubber band on my wrist. And anytime I start focusing on the past which can lead to depression or focusing too much on the future and worrying, I reach down and Pop my ruberband on my wrist and it Focuses my mind on Living in the Future.

And in ViaViente, it is the same. Set an objective of what you want, Live in the Present, and go accomplish your goal. What you may need is a “New Start”.

As part of the ViaViente family, you can have a “New Start” by working on your health with our “12 Weeks to Optimum Health Program”, and then working on your Wealth by setting your goals and objectives and Build Your Business.

The Via business opportunity allows you to start fresh financially, whether you're seeking an additional $100, $200, $500, or $1,000 a month. Or even $3,000, $5,000, or $10,000 dollars a month. It may be a trip to Disneyland for your family, A cruise for your birthday or anniversary, a trip to Hawaii, or a new room for Your home. Whatever your goals are, whatever your WHY is for becoming involved in this business, you can achieve it here in the ViaViente family.

Because today is a new start. It's a new beginning. It's a new dawn on the first day of the rest of your life. You can wipe the slate clean. I'm Craig Keeland and Thank You for being a member of the ViaViente Worldwide Family as We Restore Health and Hope Around The World. We are more than a Company, We are a Cause !!!
